Kolding City

Kolding today is a thriving industrial and commercial center, while retaining its charm and history through the famous castle and a pedestrianized city center. An art gallery, a shopping mall, cafes and boutiques are all part of what Kolding has to offer.

Although the city is not large according to international standards, with a population of around 70,000, Kolding has the seventh biggest urban population in Denmark. It is designated as an "education hub" with several higher education institutions beside the IBA, which contributes to its multi-cultural and lively environment.

Kolding is situated in the center of rail and road connections on the mainland of Denmark, just 30 minutes from the German border and 2,5 hours from Hamburg. The capital of Denmark, Copenhagen, is 2 hours away and the two largest cities after Copenhagen, Odense and Aarhus are an hour away.

Transportation:

Billund Airport (http://www.bll.dk/?sc_lang=en) is the closest one to Kolding, about one hour by bus. There is a direct bus to Kolding nr. 166, but please be aware that bus transportation is not very frequent in the evening. <https://www.sydtrafik.dk/forside>

Copenhagen Airport (<http://www.cph.dk/en/>) is about 2,5 hours away from Kolding with frequent train transportation (<http://www.dsb.dk/om-dsb/in-english/>).

IBA

With its roots going back with more than 100 years, the IBA is today a major higher education institution in the heart of Denmark, offering programmes in business, marketing, finance, management, multimedia and entrepreneurship & design.

With nearly 110 lectures and 40 staff members within administration and student counselling, we are offering a wide range of subjects and services for our 1500 students.

The IBA offers a buddy system, which includes communication before arriving in Kolding through FB or any other communication channels, pick up service at the train station and general support throughout the week.

We are looking forward to welcoming you on the International Week 2019

The International Team at the IBA.
